How to Register a Diecast Collectible

Diecast must be registered one at a time. The following instructions explain how to register a diecast in your collection:

1. The first thing that you will want to do is to photograph your diecast. DCR allows you to upload three pictures of your diecast. See the SOP "How to Photograph Your Diecast" for helpful instructions to photograph your diecast.

2. Go to www.diecastregistry.com

3. Enter your User ID and PW in the upper right hand corner.

4. Click on the blue circular arrow (see picture below).

5. Once you are successfully signed in, you will see your User ID in the upper right hand corner, and you will have access to the members-only pages: Register My Diecast, My Collection, The Registry, and Price Guide. If you can sing in, but do not have access to the members-only pages, then your membership has expired and needs to be renewed. See the SOP "How to Renew My DCR Membership" for helpful instructions to renew your membership

6. Click on Register My Diecast in the main menu.

7. In step #1, select the make of the diecast you are registering.

8. Then select the scale of the diecast you are registering.

9. Then select the year of the diecast you are registering. The year is the year in which the diecast was released by the manufacturer. For example the year of the Dale Sr. 1:24 #30 Army 1976 Chevy Malibu Elite is "1999" because this car was released in 1999.

If you cannot find your die cast in the DCR database, please complete the Add Die Cast Form and we will add it for you.
Production quantities are shown in parentheses at the end of the paint scheme.
A production quantity of "0" means that the item was never approved for production. However, prototypes may exist.
A production quantity of "9999" means that there is conflicting data on the actual quantity produced by the manufacturer.

If the driver of your car, or the paint scheme you are looking for are not listed, or the picture does not match then:
- Double check to make sure you chose the correct make. Some helpful definitions:

```
CWC = Clear Window Car
BWC = Black Window Car
BWB = Black Window Bank
CWB = Clear Window Bank

- Check to make sure you chose the correct year (this is the most frequent mistake). Choose a different year, and see if your driver and paint scheme are listed, and see if the photograph matches that of your diecast.
- While we have well over 100,000 diecast in our database, it is possible that we do not yet have your diecast entered (each diecast produced must be in our database before you can register one). If you cannot find your die cast in the DCR database, please complete the Add Die Cast Form and we will add it for you. Completing this car also puts the specific diecast in queue to have its market value added to our price guide.
- Production quantities are shown in parentheses at the end of the paint scheme. A production quantity of "0" means that the diecast was never approved for production, but prototypes exist. A production quantity of "9999" means that the manufacturer recorded the quantity produced as "Limited Edition," or that we have not yet been able to positively confirm how many were made. If you see 9999, and the box/packaging for your diecast states a production quantity, please Contact Us to advise us of the actual quantity made.

13. In step #2, enter the sequential number of the diecast you are registering. If your diecast is not sequentially numbered (NSN), then "NSN" will appear in the Sequential Number box, and you can skip this step.
    - What is the "sequential number?" For diecast that are sequentially numbered (such as RCCA Elites), the sequential number identifies the order in which each car was manufactured. For example, RCCA made 2520 of the car in the example pictured herein. 919 means that this was the 919^{th}/2520 cars made.
    - Where can I find the sequential number? This number can be found in the back window, on the underside of the chassis, or sometimes the number is listed only on the box or on a certificate that came in the box.

② Record the Sequential Number and Condition of This Diecast

Sequential Number: 919 ☐ Prototype   If "NSN" appears in the "Sequential Number" box, the diecast you selected above is not sequentially numbered by the manufacturer.

15. In step #3, enter the date that you purchased the diecast you are registering. If you do not remember, or no longer have the paperwork, it is OK to enter, for example, "1/6/2001" to represent a diecast purchased sometime during the summer of 2001.

16. In step #3, enter the price that you paid for the diecast you are registering. If you do not remember, or no longer have the paperwork, it is OK to enter your best guess at what you paid for the item. As the owner of this diecast, you are the only person who will see this information.
    - Does DCR use the purchase price entered here in its price guide? No, the price guide uses only data from actual sales prices from public, online auctions.

19. If you purchased your diecast from someone who is not a DCR member, and you selected No in the drop down, then the page will refresh and provide a text box to enter the name of the previous owner. Enter the name of the previous owner.
   - If you purchased your diecast directly from RCCA, then enter "RCCA" as the previous owner's name.
   - If you purchased your diecast from a retailer or hobby shop and cannot remember the name, enter "hobby shop," "trackside retailer," or other description as applicable.
   - Optional: If you purchased your diecast on eBay, enter the previous owner's eBay User ID in the appropriate text box.
   - Optional: If you know the email address of the previous owner, enter it in the appropriate text box.

20. Uploading pictures is optional. If desired, DCR enables you to upload up to three pictures of your diecast. If you are posting your diecast on the DCR Diecast For Sale page, pictures will make it much more attractive to potential buyers. If you are selling your diecast on eBay, then uploading your pictures here (its free) means that you don't have to pay a fee to add additional pictures to your eBay auction. When you create a car's auction description using the HTML code generated by DCR, it includes a hyperlink that allows visitors to your online auction to see additional pictures of your car uploaded to DCR. To upload a picture, click on the Browse button.

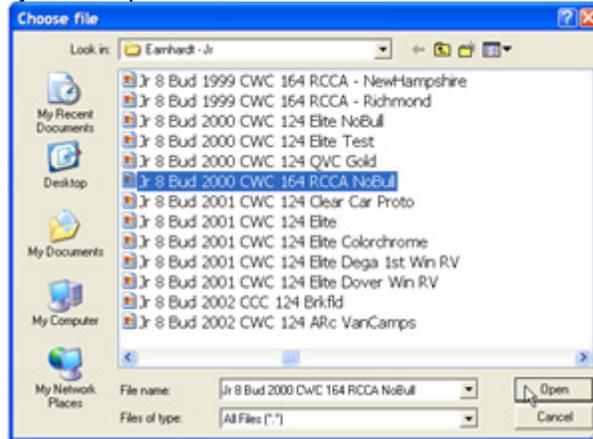

21. Select the appropriate file from your computer's hard drive and then click on the Open button.

22. The path to the selected picture will appear in the text box. Repeat steps 20 and 21 above as necessary for the 2nd and 3rd pictures.

23. If your diecast is not autographed by the driver (or other person of significance), then proceed to the next step. DCR allows you to permanently record the date and location that your diecast was autographed, and to upload that all-important picture that you took of the driver signing your collectible. Don't have a picture of the driver signing your collectible? Then go ahead and upload a close-up photo of the signature (see the previous steps above) so that it can be seen by prospective buyers and/or fellow collectors. If your diecast is autographed, then select 'Yes' from the

Autographed: Yes

Autograph Date: 8/1/2003   (mm/dd/yyyy)

Location or Event: Bristol during Thursday practice session.

24. Posting your diecast on the Diecast For Sale page is optional. If you want to sell your diecast, select 'Yes' from the List on the For Sale Page drop down. Enter the sales price and the additional flat fee that covers insured shipping to any location in the continental USA.
